

tein's Theory of k beyond the class-

SCHOOL IS COOL

Coffee with mom

ZEENAT BHAGAT

Mothers of students from Swami Vivekanand International School, Gorai, Borivali (W) were in for a pleasant surprise when they visited the school recently. Students of class VI, VII, and VIII prepared something unique for their respective mothers to show their love and affection.

Everybody decorated their tables with beautiful greeting cards for their mothers, conveying the important message of being humble, respectful and obedient. They sat to enjoy some 'We Time' by having coffee with their mothers while sharing their feelings. The objectives of the programme were to strengthen their bond, create memories for a lifetime and express gratitude. This also made the mothers realise the importance of a mother's attention and affection for a child's wellbeing.

Students worked in nine groups of 11 each to prepare for this special day. They sent out specialised invites to their mothers, started writing diaries which they read out on the D-Day and organised the programme under the guidance of their teachers, thereby enhancing their planning and management skills.

While expressing her feelings, one of the mothers said, "This is the best day in my life! I have the best son in the world."

This idea was the brainchild of Principal Kavita Nagpal, which was encouraged by trustees Archana and Sandeep Goenka. They believe that the school should be a significant space for everyone who is associated with it as a school is the heart of a community. Director Yogesh Patel thanked the participants who made the unique programme successful.

Pic: Kistu Fernandes

